INTERNATIONAL MANDATED PROGRAMS

Service to Communities & Mankind

Achievement Week

The original concept of Achievement Week Observance began in 1920. The objectives of the Observance are to stimulate and enrich the communities where Omega Psi Phi Fraternity chapters are located, and to implement a democratic way of life by emphasizing that all people must be judged by their accomplishments and service to mankind, regardless of nationality, religion or race. Each year in November, chapters across the country hold Achievement Week Observance programs, which give recognition to citizens that have made noteworthy contributions to improving the quality of life in their respective communities. In conjunction with the Achievement Week Observance program, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity also hosts a national high school essay contest. The contest is open to high school students nationwide. Financial awards are presented to the winners, each of whom must submit an essay on a theme/topic chosen annually by the Fraternity.

Scholarship

Scholarship, which is one of the four Cardinal Principles of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, is an integral and deeply rooted component. The Fraternity is involved in programs that encourage high academic attainment for students in secondary and post-secondary schools. Each member, chapter and district of the Fraternity are dedicated to promoting academic excellence and continues to serve as a financial resource, offering scholarship awards to worthy high school students as well as to Omega Psi Phi members and non-members enrolled in colleges and universities in an effort to ease the financial burden of higher education. On the international level, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity provides scholarships to deserving students through the Charles R. Drew Scholarship Commission.

Talent Hunt

The Talent Hunt Program, which began in 1946, is one of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity's international programs designed to identify and support high school youth through the performing arts.

High school students compete in various artistic categories – dramatic interpretation, dance, vocal, instrumental and visual art. Chapters hold Talent Hunt programs annually and students have earned scholarships, cash awards and recognition through exposure from these programs. The Talent Hunt Program has touched thousands of students over more than 65 years, many of whom have moved on to make outstanding contributions to their communities, the nation and the world.

Social Action Programs

All levels of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity are expected to facilitate and coordinate activities that will uplift their local communities. The International Social Action Committee coordinates multi-faceted Social Action programs for more than 700 chapters. Programs and activities under Social Action include, but are not limited to the following national programs.

Ω Stop the Violence Initiative

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity has taken a leadership role in addressing and preventing violence against women and children in our community. In 2007, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity pledged to work towards the prevention of all forms of violence affecting our community. To address domestic, sexual, and community violence, Omega Men are taking critically important steps to advocate the elimination of all forms of violence throughout communities served. Omega Men have mentored and educated women and men regarding the importance of healthy, non-violent relationships. Chapters are encouraged to develop and implement programs such as community domestic violence awareness walks, raise awareness and advocacy prevention, and promote non-violent relationships and activities.

Ω Health Initiatives

Chapters of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity are expected to facilitate, participate in and/or coordinate activities that will uplift their communities by promoting good health/wellness practices. Health-related issues in which members involve themselves include awareness and education of HIV/AIDS, diabetes, prostate cancer, sickle cell anemia and coordination and participation in the Dr. Charles R. Drew Memorial Blood Drive, in partnership with the American Red Cross. Annually, Chapters of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity participate in health charities/fairs, and symposiums including the American Diabetes Association Walk, the March of Dimes Walk for Babies, the American Cancer Society Relay for Life, and United Way charitable programs. In 2014, Omega

Psi Phi partnered with the National Institutes of Health on an initiative seeking to raise awareness regarding mental health conditions affecting Black men in America, and to promote good health/wellness activities.

Ω Assault on Illiteracy

The Assault on Illiteracy initiative was established in 1980 when a group of publishers associated with Black Media, Inc. (BMI) was made aware that approximately 44% of Black Americans could neither read nor comprehend beyond the fourth grade level. Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and other community-based organizations have partnered to reduce and eradicate illiteracy nationwide. Omega Men have been in the forefront as leaders in communities leading the initiative through numerous tutoring and mentoring programs that educate youth and adults, including such flagship community programs as the George B. Thomas Sr. Learning Academy, Inc., named for its visionary leader and lifelong educator and member of Omega Psi Phi, George B. Thomas, Sr., Ed.D. The program had its start in 1986 in Montgomery County, Maryland and has grown as a 501(c)(3) foundation to provide quality and professional tutorial and mentoring services each year to more than 3000 students in 12 centers county-wide.

Ω Fatherhood Initiative

Among other social programs, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity chapters are actively involved in activities and initiatives that focus on increasing the involvement of Fathers in the lives of their children. Chapters conduct programs that encourage dialogue and Fatherhood advocacy, highlighting the impactful role of Fathers and responsible parenting in communities. Omega Psi Phi Fraternity continues to raise awareness regarding the value of Fathers and have partnered with other national organizations to help build healthier families.

Ω Habitat for Humanity

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity has partnered with Habitat for Humanity for a number of years to build affordable housing in communities. Throughout the years, Omega Men have spent countless hours working with Habitat for Humanity personnel to build, repair and paint homes in the interest of tackling a significant social problem – decent and affordable housing for all families in communities.

Ω St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Partnership

The St. Jude initiative is intended to raise awareness and donations for the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital through Omega Psi Phi Fraternity-sponsored events such as "Football Watch Parties with a Purpose" that gather friends and family to support St. Jude through awareness of their mission and fundraising for their causes. This initiative brings attention to St. Jude and its valuable research and treatment for children in the United States and around the world who are challenged with such devastating illnesses as various forms of cancer, sickle cell anemia and other life-threatening diseases.
